

Hymns cut or retuned from CW and CWS

The following chart lists hymns that will not make the transition from Christian Worship (1993) and Christian Worship: Supplement (2008) – and hymns from those sources that are retained but with a different tune. If you discover that a favorite is missing, consider the challenge faced in arriving at a tentative list for inclusion. The Foreword to Christian Worship: Hymn Preview offers these thoughts: "It's impossible to answer the first question [about new hymns] without cutting some hymns. Can cuts be made in an objective and fair manner? Yes, to a large degree. Criteria include frequency of use and achieving a balance in seasonal/topical sections. For example, it wouldn't work to include several new Easter and Christmas hymns without also cutting some. Without some cuts, there wouldn't be sufficient room in other seasons/topics."

Of course, those congregations that have been using the digital edition of CW93 will be able to continue using hymns that do not carry over to CW21. Hymn graphics can also be saved within CW: Service Builder.

Some hymns from CW93 have been retuned. These are indicated in italic with the new tune following the CW93 tune. Some hymns are retuned to reflect common usage in other hymnals, some to achieve better balance of tune usage, some to provide a tune more likely to be broadly used.

Some hymns are metrical psalms. Those moved to CW: Psalter are noted.
